After a jaw-dropping show at the Lounge in Camden, London on July 20th UK metallers NEONFLY happily announced to not only have reached but even exceeded the goal of the crowdfunding campaign for the production of their next album, »The Future, Tonight«. 326 backers raised £12,169 which equals 121% of the initially set goal of £10,000.

The band commented: "The past 2 months have been an incredible rollercoaster, from the release of our new single, to our weekly live streams on Facebook, and our nearly sold out headline show in London last weekend, it's been a wild adventure and we're completely blown away by the positive response this has had. To all the people who backed this campaign, believed in us, helped us promote it, we wish to thank you from the bottom of our hearts! We all got there together and this new album will be for you!"

The band is scheduled to enter Long Wave Studios in Cardiff with producer Romesh Dodangoda (MOTÖRHEAD, BULLET FOR MY VALENTINE, BRING ME THE HORIZON) from October 21 through to November 15 to record the eagerly awaited successor to 2014's widely acclaimed »Strangers In Paradise«.

NEONFLY are also booked to play this year's Indoor Summer Festival on September 13-14 in Hamburg, Germany, sharing the stage with renowned acts such as THE NIGHT FLIGHT ORCHESTRA, RECKLESS LOVE or CRAZY LIXX.

Watch the video for the band's current single, 'This World Is Burning' here: https://youtu.be/bQHNYj5VPGs

STREAM/DOWNLOAD THE SINGLE HERE:
https://listnin.co/ThisWorldIsBurning

Fans can still contribute to the campaign, which is now open for funding via InDemand. Indiegogo offer this option to campaigns who reach their goal in the original timeframe, to keep funding projects. This means you can still purchase some of the band's products via the corwdfunding page including the pre-order of the new album "The Future, Tonight", and some of the exclusive experiences via http://bit.ly/NeonflyCrowdfund2019.

_____